What	Rules • Throw a dice. Move your counter. • Ask the next person a question using the words in the square you have landed on. • If they can answer the question they can throw the dice. • PENALTY - If a player cannot ask a good question they must move BACK the number of squares shown on the next throw of the dice.

This is a game you can play whilst reading a book together to help with language skills and to find out what the children understand in the story.

You can also use these questions for everyday activities

What, where, why, when, who and how are good questioning words as they can't get a 'yes' or 'no' answer - the children have to tell you more than yes or no!

These questioning words are also good for the end of a school day:

What did you have for lunch today?

Who did you play with today?

What games did you play?

What was your favourite activity today at school?
